WILMA WUNDER

Just like coming home.
Welcome to Wilma!

Together. Attentive. Delicious.

These are Wilma's values.

Therefore, she shows you with this flower symbol on the menu that a dish or an ingredient is particularly sustainable.

You can find detailed information here!

What is different about us...?

Have a look what Wilma is doing!

Honey-sweet sponsorship

Wilma is committed to the preservation of bees and therefore obtains regional summer blossom honey from Gerresheim.

Wilma loves happy hens

Wilma's happy hens get to live outdoors all day long, enjoying plenty of fresh air and carefully selected food. A very chicken-friendly life! That's why they're happy to lay an egg every day.

Whether it's a bright yellow fried egg or a tender chicken breast: when it comes to her meat, Wilma always places great importance on raising the chickens in a happy, healthy and stress-free environment. Superb quality you can taste.

Pea power

Wilma relies on the pea power of "endori's" sustainable products: peas from their own farm in the Rhineland, without any soy, palm oil or artificial flavours.

Homeland love

For her magic drinks, Wilma adores the products made by the German company THE YEAH LAB. You can find more information at www.yeahblend.com

Pepsi and Germany? Could that be? Well, of course: Pepsi is not exported across the great pond to Germany, it is actually produced here following the American recipe. The producers use local water and it is bottled in Löhnberg, which guarantees short transport routes... and Wilma loves the taste!

Healthy soul food

Wilma's Pomom friends are living proof that soul food can be healthy: the colourful smoothies and smoothie bowls created by this German company combine lifestyle with a healthy diet, as they contain 100% natural fruit, no additives, sugars or preservatives. The ultimate in vitamin power!

Amooooosed cows

The milk from Wilma's Leerdammer cheese comes from the initiative for grazing cows, an initiative to promote animal welfare. For more exercise in the fresh air!

Gintastic

Gin Sul transports Wilma's senses to the cliffs of the Algarve. Produced in Hamburg-Altona, Gin Sul smells like Portugal: juniper, fresh citrus fruits, cinnamon, allspice and rosemary come together in a lovingly crafted small-batch distillation. More information: www.gin-sul.de
